Choosing the right pillow is more important than ever before when considering increased resident satisfaction, with necessary performance and protection. The Pillow Factory offers the largest selection of reusable pillows in the market, using high quality, differentiated materials to meet every need. Our pillows stand up for durability and protection without stepping down comfort—a balance that your clinical and supply teams will appreciate when appropriate pillow cleaning and disinfection techniques can occur with success.

We recognize that shipping turnaround and delivery lead times are important to you and your team. Our express service items provide the most ideal turnaround so that our products can be available for your residents when you need them.

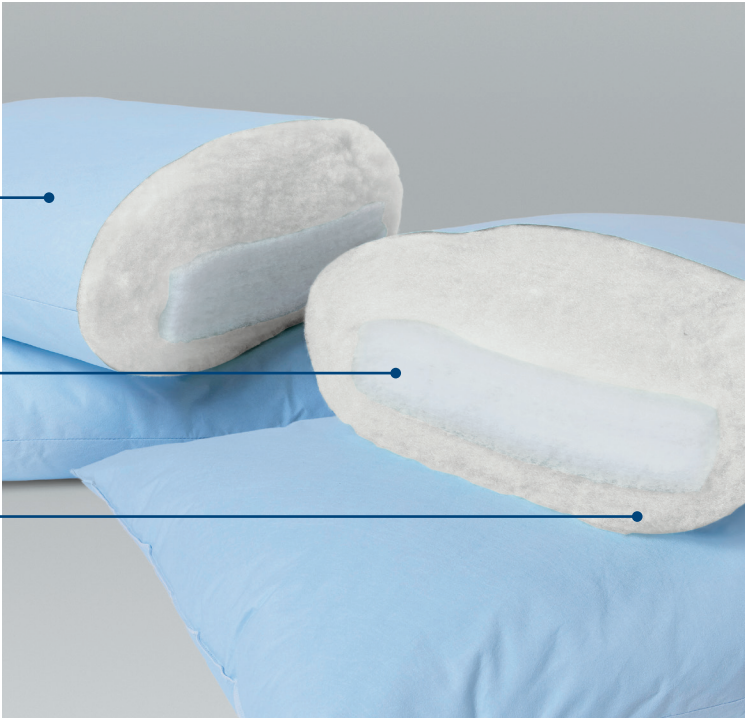

There is nothing more important to residents and their experience than the items that touch their bodies. Residents need just the right combination of the comforts of home and healthcare support.
